

I believe the "established business relationship" exemption from the Indiana no call list is good. I believe companies that you do business SHOULD be allowed to call you. I don't want total strangers calling me but a company that I already do business with is NOT a total stranger and if they have a better deal to offer me I want to hear about it.